

High performance fabrics

Company

Qubo has been combining style, innovation and design in the textile World for years.

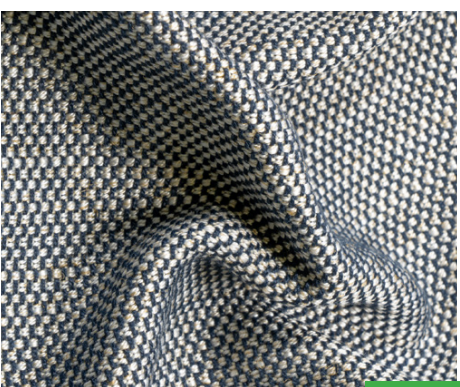

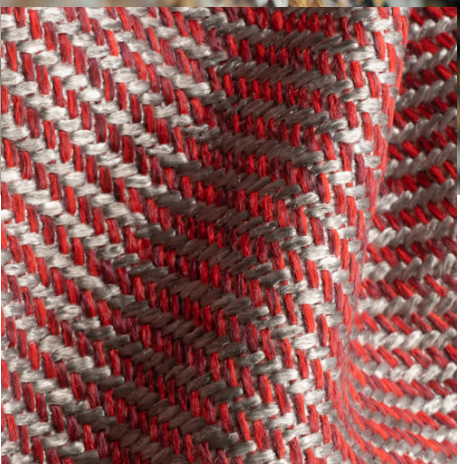

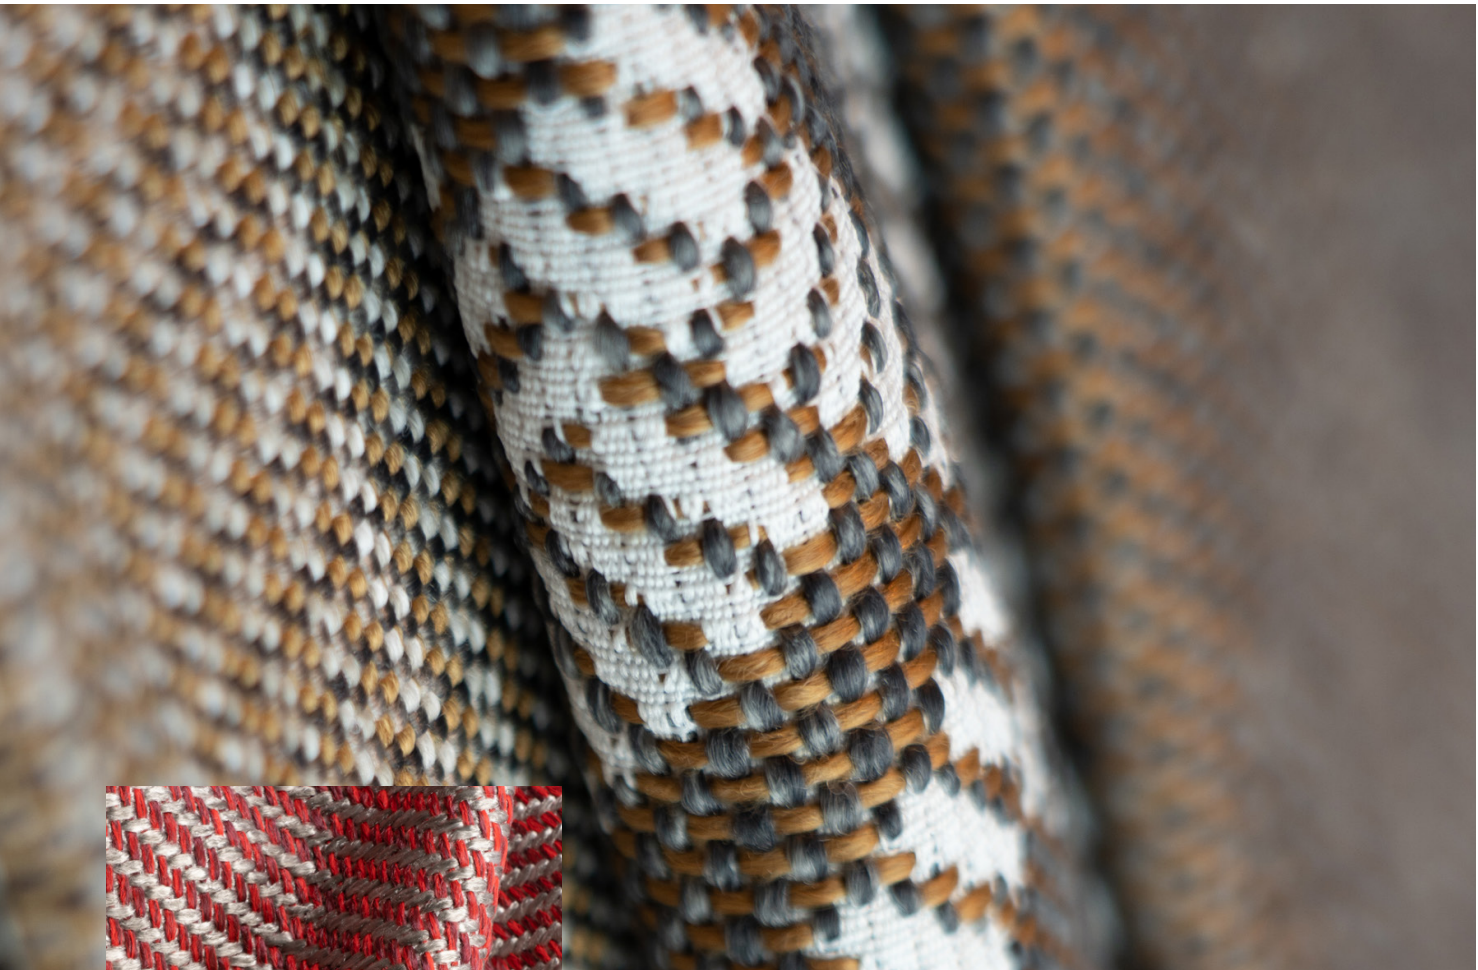

From the project to the realization, from the pencil to the loom, we create high quality fabrics both yarn and piece-dyed, all treated with particular and exclusive finishing, which make us stand out for originality and style.

We export textile quality all over the world, made with the best raw materials and the most sophisticated and advanced processing techniques.

We face all challenges with a “we can make it” attitude, guaranteeing a problem-solving team and providing an excellent customer service.

Products

Qubo stands out for its aesthetics, technology and functional characteristics of the fabrics.

By creating a new category of products with a residential taste, suitable also for contract and hospitality, we have developed FR collections, adjusted in products that can be adapted to any design scheme, all made to last over time and with the highest performance.

Our experience allows us to offer a versatile and flexible puzzle, whose pieces always provide the best answer to all the customers' needs, offering the ideal tools to work in the simplest, most rational and effective way.

Sustainability

A more conscious and respectful attitude toward the environment is a must for a better planet that responds to the ever increasing demand for artifacts, in the name of sustainability and transparency.

It has always been our commitment to continuously improve the design, the production and the use of fabrics, using the latest production techniques to optimize quality and minimize the environmental impact.

Custom design

A new way to experience and bring your project idea to life. Our great passion for the textile world and the continuous development of the skills of our staff, the ability to listen to the customers' needs, and, above all, the ability to interpret, understand and create, let us work as a team to create customized products, of high quality level and great creativity.

Health care

All Qubo fabrics are produced and certified according to STANDARD 100 by OEKO-TEX®, a control and certification system for products in the textile field, which certifies the passing of specific tests in order to verify the presence of harmful substances and the achievement of certain ecological requirements. The produced fabrics therefore do not release harmful chemicals into the environment and are completely safe in contact with people, children and pets.

FR / outdoor - indoor Eco friendly

Among the first in the sector, Qubo has introduced in its collections an innovative outdoor / FR polypropylene yarn with high performance, non-toxic and stain-resistant and, above all, 100% recyclable and easy to maintain, suitable for both indoors and outdoors.

The result is a fabric resistant to abrasion and UV rays, breathable, anti-mold and antibacterial, which can be used for innovative and diversified applications, thanks to its high resistance.
